

Daniel Habgood

My name is Daniel Habgood and I was born in Bournemouth in 1990. I will soon have an undergraduate degree in Photography. My work with photography has been very much focused on the theme of self. With experience in book publishing, exhibitions and photography, I am currently looking for work that will utilise the skills I have developed at University. I would very much like the chance to explore different work environments to help me focus on the correct path for my career.
